As a brother and sister walked around a pond, they saw moss and plants growing on the edge. The brother thought it would be fun to push his sister inside. His sister fell in the water and landed on the shallow end of the pond. She was not very happy, but she did not stand near him anymore. The edge of the pond was close to a path that the brother and sister would take. As they walked, they saw lots of craters that animals had made. Across the path they ran into trash near the banks of another pond.
They did not like the mess and began cleaning all of the grass and taking the trash off the shallow end of the pond.
