

A Curriculum Guide for

Flat Stanley

Flat Stanley Curriculum Guide

All content and graphics in this curriculum guide were created by and are the property of Teresa Higginbotham. All rights reserved. ©2010

Flat Stanley

By Jeff Brown

Illustrations by Scott Nash

About this Book:

This is a delightful book that works well with older preschoolers. The story involves a young boy who is flattened when his bulletin board falls on him. He finds life being flat can be fun as he goes under doors and poses as portrait in a museum to help the police capture art thieves. In the end he gets tired of being flat and his brother saves the day by pumping him up with a bicycle pump.

How to Use a Printable Pre-K Curriculum Guide

The activities in this curriculum guide can be broken down into a week's time. Using the same approach as started in the series Five in a Row you can read the book and then do one or two of the daily activities. By reading the book multiple times you help the children catch the small details in the story and they enjoy it. Think of how many times a child will request the same story at home or watch the same cartoon. On the next page is a suggested schedule for the activities in the packet.

Schedule At-A-Glance

Monday Page 4	Tuesday Page 11	Wednesday Page 20	Thursday Page 25	Friday Page 29
Read Book	Read Book	Read Book	Read Book	Read Book
Circle Time Questions	Envelope Cut and Paste Activity	Flat Stanley Song	Music-The Flat Stanley Song	Color Flat Stanleys
Envelope Game Part 1	Music-The Flat Stanley Song	Balloon Science Experiment	Flat Stanley Chocolate Cake Craft	Envelope Game Part 2
Easy Center: Number Match File Folder Game	Writing Practice FLAT	Writing Practice FLAT	My Address Worksheet	Matching Stamps Game
Send home letters to parents	Address Practice: Verbal	Create Mini- Book	Writing Practice FLAT	Writing Practice FLAT

Envelope

