

Sillylibs:

adjectives

nouns

She was wearing a _____ dress made (adj)
of _____. But her clever disguise didn't fool (noun)
me. I was ready for her tricks. You see, I had just purchased a _____
(adj) _____
(noun)
of my own with _____ sequined-lace.
(adj)
But she was too _____ for me. She (adj)
figured out my game right away. So I had no choice. I had to flee in my _____ (adj)
_____ before she realized I was (noun)
wearing a _____ toupee. Although,
(adj)
what did I care if she knew? She dumped me once already when she ran off with that _____ donkey to the Caribbean. She (adj)

said she never meant to hurt me. Huh! Yeah right. Then why did she put a fish in my

_____? I suppose it's all for the (noun)

better. I took my revenge by dancing on her new,

_____ and sent
(adj) (noun)

it to her _____. Boy was he (medical person)

surprised when he opened that box!

SAMPLE-DONKEY COPY